Coast Center Becomes More Than a Gleam

Pacifica Council Meets Tonight to Mull Report by Citizens' Committee

By MARILYN BRANNAN

THOUGH NOW only in the pen and ink stage, a community civic center for Pacifica may be somewhat more than a gleam in the eyes of the city's various civic and social clubs.

Nearly two years ago, the city council appointed a Community Center Committee to assess the need for such a facility.

This committee, in turn, met with representatives of some 30 local organizations who set up a steering committee to determine whether or not the citizenry desired a center.

After intensive study based upon a questionnaire circulated among the organizations, the steering committee recently submitted to the council a report indicating a center is needed.

This report urges councilmen not only to make an effort to provide a community center but to appoint a group of citizens to locate a site, study financing and perform all the other tasks necessary to bridge the gap from pen and ink to solid concrete and glass.

Farsighted members of the committee even suggest the possibility of combining a community center with a future governmental civic center.

The next move is up to the council, which has called a study meeting on the committee's report for 8 tonight in the City Hall.

The council has invited all Pacifica organizations interested in a community center to attend.

DERWOOD BIRD, acting chairman of the steering committee, said the committee's report is based on replies from 45 organizations that responded to the questionnaire.

He pointed out that the response represented 42.5 per cent of the organizations questioned.

Data from the replies indicate a center would be heavily used, particularly in the evening hours, and would serve at least 33 per cent of the adults in Pacifica.

The committee recommends that the center provide meeting rooms, an auditorium, a banquet room and kitchen.

It also urges the inclusion of a projection room, stage, dance floor, exhibit and parking space.

EXPERT OPINION has been furnished by the architectural firm of Paul D. Markling and Associates which based its figures on the committee's questionnaire.

Markling says a building to meet the indicated needs in Pacifica should contain 23,000 square feet of floor area on a minimum site of three usable acres.

This size building would contain up to four meeting rooms, a multi-purpose central facility for dances, banquets and large gatherings, kitchen facilities for complete preparation of a limited menu and a cocktail lounge to serve 100 persons.

A general lobby, restrooms exhibit space, storage area and two offices also would be part of the estimated 23,000 square feet.

Parking facilities for 266 cars would comprise another 79,800 square feet.

THE ORGANIZATIONS questioned listed many possible uses for a community center other than just as a meeting place.

An annual fuchsia show, church youth conventions, art exhibits, choir concerts, conferences and conventions, fund raising events, fashion shows, large public and civic meetings, town hall meetings, lectures, workshops, and civic dances were just a few mentioned.

Extra Pay Committee Deadlocked

JUHS Mulls 2 Reports On Issue

By LOUANNE HEATH

The Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees Monday night appeared to be right back where it started three months ago when the Committee on Equalization of Teacher Responsibility presented its long awaited report.

The report, which trustees had hoped would give them an opinion on the extra-pay-for-extra-work issue and suggest ways of determining who would qualify for such pay, turned out to be not one report but two and each diametrically opposed to each other.

Asst. Dist. Supt. Fred O. Goodell, chairman of the committee, stated that since the committee was established June 4, a total of seven meetings have been held.

As the deadline for a recommendation approached, members voted to prepare statements by two subcommittees.

Each committee consisted of four of the nine members. Chairman Goodell did not take part in the preparation of either document.

Waging War on a Fire

DALY CITY firemen, some equipped with oxygen masks, battle a fire that swept through a home at 1432 South Mayfair Avenue. The fire was started when a pilot light ignited gasoline fumes. (Post-Times photo)

FIRE GUTS D.C. HOME

Mother Burned in Mistaken Rescue Try

A 42-year-old Daly City woman was burned from the waist down Monday afternoon when she rushed back into a blazing home in the mistaken belief her four children were still inside.

Mrs. Jane Montero was given emergency treatment at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco and transferred to County General Hospital. She suffered first and second degree burns.

She had fled a home she and her children share with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sciancalepore at 1342 South Mayfair Avenue when flames suddenly spread through the house. Mrs. Montero is a sister of Mrs. Sciancalepore.

Firefighters said Sciancalepore, working in a garage-basement below, had been transferring gasoline from a five-gallon can to his 1955 model auto when the gas fumes were ignited by a water heater pilot light.

When Mrs. Montero did not see her children in the crowd outside, she ran back into the house and was burned while looking for them. She eventually fled.

The children, firefighters reported, had fled earlier and were across the street. They are Larry, 13, Tony, 9, and 4-year-old twins, Sharon and Karen.

Firemen from five Daly City engine companies fought the blaze, which broke out at 12:45 p.m. They were at the scene two hours.

A fire department spokesman said the flames gutted the interior of the home. Damage was estimated at $10,000 to the building and $5,000 to the contents.

Sciancalepore said later the insurance covered the home but not the contents.

ST. FRANCIS BLVD. ROUTE

Dirt-Hauling Pact Approved by D. C.

By RON BATES

The Daly City Council Monday night approved a contract with the state that will permit the division of state highways to transport dirt in heavy trucks over St. Francis Boulevard.

The dirt will be excavated in connection with the construction of a link between Skyline Boulevard and the Junipero Serra Freeway.

In approving the contract, which will be effective from January 1, 1965, to January 1, 1968, the council set down three stipulations the state must meet in hauling the dirt. They are:

Trucks may traverse St. Francis betwen Clarinda Avenue and Skyline Boulevard only between the hours of 7 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Any damage to homes because of wind-blown dirt will be paid by the state.

When the freeway link is completed, St. Francis Boulevard must be restored to its original strength.

The three stipulations were included in the second draft of the contract at the insistence of the city council, City Engineer William Chapman explained.

In other business, the city council approved the final map of Westlake West, the last major single family development planned by Henry Doelger Builder Incorporated in Daly City.

Plans for the 230-home development surrounding Franklin D. Roosevelt School were approved after considerable discussion about sanitation lines and the relocation of a pumping station.

The area is not yet a part of the North San Mateo County Sanitation District and formal approval has not been given to Doelger plans for sewer lines.

Chapman said that Engineer-Manager Robert Bernicchi of the sanitation district said if Doelger needed to get started on the housing development, it would have to do so at the risk of having its final plans disapproved.

The council formally accepted one-foot dedication strips across three streets in Westlake West to prevent the connection of those streets to Pacifica if they are not up to Daly City standards.

In other action the council:

Initiated steps to withdraw the Serramonte development from the Colma Lighting District.

New Study of Unification Is Rejected

The San Mateo County Committee on School Reorganization last week declined to reinitiate a study of unification of the Jefferson High School District because it feared that the State Board of Education would be "prejudiced" then to turn down a proposed split of the district.

The plan to form two districts from the high school area goes before the state board November 12-13 in San Diego.

The county committee called a special meeting in Redwood City last week to determine a course of action after the state board turned down two proposed splits in the south and central sections of the county.

The action, according to Deputy County Superintendent of Schools Al Glantz, puts the county committee on a tight schedule to qualify for almost $300,000 in bonus funds under the Unruh Unification Act.

The North County was one of the first areas in the county to be studied by the committee and one of the last to be resolved.

Elio Fontana and James Cooper, chairman and vice chairman of the Jefferson High School District, respectively, appeared at the special meet-

We Reach Another Milestone

The Post today reached another all-time high in local retail display advertising.

Today's 48-page edition contains a total of 4,259 column inches of display ads, exceeding the previous record of 3,918 by 341 column inches.

One-hundred display advertisers are represented in today's largest-ever edition.

In addition to the record-breaking total of display ads, today's Post contains nearly five pages of classified advertising — largest section of any weekly newspaper in San Mateo County.

Firemen Blame Arson for San Bruno Mountain Fire

A raging grass fire that swept over 1,200 acres on San Bruno Mountain early last week was the work of an arsonist, according to a Daly City fire official.

Assistant Chief Herbert Ritzman said he and a state forestry agent discovered a crude fire-setting device almost at the exact spot where the fire began shortly before noon a week ago Monday.

The device consisted of a book of matches with a partially burned cigarette stuck between the matches.

Ritzmann said this type of device is usually consumed by flames but that the grass fire burned so rapidly that it spread away from the device and left part of it intact.

The fire, which burned throughout Monday and early Tuesday morning, started in dry grass and brush behind the Cow Palace parking lot.

Ritzmann said Cow Palace employes were being questioned to determine if they had seen anyone in the vicinity of the parking lot at the time the fire was discovered.

He added that conditions at the time for an arsonist were "certainly ideal . . . it was hot, the humidity was low and there was a large amount of dry material."

Ritzmann had coordinated the efforts of six fire-fighting agencies in putting out the flames. Sevreal borate bombers, called into service by the State Forestry Service, were used in the effort.

150 APARTMENTS

Pacifica Council Rejects Project

A proposal to construct a giant new apartment house development in the valley at the eastern end of Sharp Park was rejected by Pacifica city councilmen last week.

Although planning commissioners previously okayed a planned unit zoning for the area, the council rejected an apartment use for the 150-unit project on the grounds that the added number of residents in the area and increased population density would create a hardship on utilities and create a traffic problem on access streets. The applicant, Hollis Sweeney, must now submit revised development plans to planning commissioners.

Taken under study was a report from Police Chief Neil Tremaine that an underground World War II artillery bunker could better be developed into an emergency operating center in case of disaster than could an addition to fire department headquarters. Development of the surplus bunker would be more economical than an addition to the fire station and would be more feasible, Tremaine's report indicated.

ell reported, "when it became obvious that the committee was split down the middle on the subject."

Only one page of the more than 50 pages in the final report was contributed by one of the subcommittees. This page, signed by Loyd Silberstein, Roland Boldt, Verner Curtis and Joseph George, recommends that, with one exception, no change be made in the present policies.

Excepted was assignments to any school-directed activity on Saturday or Sunday. The subcommittee urged that teachers be paid at the same rate as night school teachers for such tasks.

The other subcommittee asserted in its part of the final report that there are teachers who perform professional services that are an essential part of an educationally justifiable extracurricular program.

The committee contended that these services require special skills or training and that faculty members are assigned such professional tasks to be performed outside of the regular school day.

Using this as a criteria, the subcommittee recommended that certain responsibilities should merit extra compensation either in extra time off or additional pay.

Named in the report were the directors of athletic programs, directors of dramatic and musical activities, directors of school publications, directors of speech activities and officials at athletic events.

The committee report was signed by James Ballard, Barbara Bosio, Joseph McGrath and David TeSelle.

ing to ask the committee to start over on a study.

Glantz said that if a new study had been approved, it might have been completed and a proposal prepared in time for submission to voters in the general school board's election next spring.

This would have saved about $59,000 in election expenses, he said.

The committee felt that too much work would be needed in too short a time to squeeze a new study in now. The motion to re-study lost, 4-2.

One of the main concerns of the county committee was the feeling that the state board's vague yardstick for approval of unification plans left the committee's function curtailed.

This is because all the committee had to go on was the board's actions and pronouncements of September 11 when it turned down the committee's proposals to split the San Mateo and Sequoia High School Districts.

The "exceptional circumstances" clause of the Unruh Unification Act were considered the key to the whole project and the committee split on whether even to continue working until this is defined by the state board.

Unity Plan Backers to Air Views

By MARILYN BRANNAN

A member of the Jefferson Elementary School District board of trustees Monday night said that proponents of the plan to create two unified school districts in the North County will vigorously argue their case at a meeting of the State Board of Education in November.

The board is scheduled to consider the plan, which would split the Jefferson High School District in half, at its meeting November 12 and 13 in San Diego.

Thomas Noonan, of the Jefferson Elementary Board said that backers of the proposal will go ahead with their presentation even though it is felt in some quarters that the state board has already decided against the high school district split.

"Even if we are turned down," Noonan said, "I don't feel all is lost. And he added:

"Our position will be stated and the state legislature will be made aware of our convictions. Undoubtedly legislation will be introduced in January to interpret the unification section of the Unruh Bill."

In other action, the board of trustees took under consideration a request that teachers be allowed to take advantage of recent state legislation allowing them to purchase tax-sheltered annuities for retirement security.

Under this plan, school boards in California are permitted to buy tax-sheltered annuities for certificated employees either through the State Teachers' Retirement system or independent insurance companies.

Superintendent of Schools, Richard L. Foster, says this plan is attractive to teachers because it delays taxes on the teacher's gross income and possibly places him in a lower income bracket by the reduction of his present gross earnings.

Noonan and Trustee George G. Perry considered it in the Board's interest to assist the teachers in their deliberations since the board will ultimately be involved and be required to make a final decision.

"This plan will be hard to administer if many private insurance companies are involved," Noonan pointed out.

Mike Pennings, representing the teachers' association, complimented the board for being so well informed on the sheltered annuity program.

Among other actions, the board adopted a resolution of intention to sell a house and property at 179 Knowles Street and invited sealed bids to be opened on Oct. 26 at 8 p.m.

This lot and house was purchased when the district bought property adjacent to the Woodrow Wilson School for school expansion.

The district has discovered that this property, except for the rear 30 feet of the 25 by 100 foot lot, is not needed for the expansion program.

The board placed a $15,500 minimum on bids for the two-bedroom home and grounds.

A resolution to advertise for bids for a contract to transport exceptional students in the district was also passed.

The Servicar Co. of San Mateo had previously been awarded a $8,750 contract to transport 16 students who attend special classes.

It May be Guadalupe

The County Planning Commission has recommended that the name of the Market Street Extension, the new road leading from Daly City to the crest of San Bruno Mountain, be changed to Guadalupe Canyon Parkway.

The road is to extend eventually down the eastern slope of the mountain to Old Bayshore Highway in Brisbane and possibly to the future Bayfront Freeway.

Daly City has agreed with the name change, final action on which is to be taken by the County Board of Supervisors.

Man Guilty Of Trying to Kill His Son

William Mendez was found guilty last week of a charge that he tried to murder his 3-year-old son. He faces a possible penalty of 14 years in state prison.

Mendez, 48-year-old sailor, displayed no noticeable emotion when he heard the verdict announced by Superior Judge J. A. Branson, who tried the case without a jury.

Mendez has been in custody since last July 6 when he was arrested after pumping seven bullets into the body of his son, Paul, who is now 4.

The state alleged that Mendez intended to kill the boy rather than see him returned to the custody of his mother, who had started divorce proceedings. Mendez, however, insisted that he never had such an intention and cannot remember the actual shooting.

"The one fortunate part of this case," Judge Branson said, "is that the little boy is alive and apparently will not suffer too many ill effects — physically, at least. It is close to a miracle."

Surgeons found that one of the bullets missed Paul's heart by no more than a sixteenth of an inch. It was necessary to remove his spleen.

D. C. Hurler Is N. Y. Met

Daly City's—and more specifically — Westmoor's, reputation as a producer of major league baseball players moved up another notch Sunday night when Terry Christman inked a contract with the New York Mets.

The 20-year-old southpaw pitcher, who compiled a 25-7 record with the San Francisco State Gators during the past three seasons, became the fourth member of the 1960 championship Westmoor team of Coach Rod Losberger to sign a major league baseball contract.

The others were Barry Krohn and Tom McHugh, who signed with the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Rich Morales, who signed with the Chicago White Sox.

Christman reported that he received a $13,500 bonus from the Mets, who signed the former Westmoor pitcher-outfielder in competition with St. Louis and Baltimore.

Six Youths Arrested at Coast Party

Six teen-age youths were arrested in Pacifica Friday night after neighbors complained of a noisy party, involving 30 to 40 juveniles. Three were booked on possession of marijuana charges. The youths all are 18 years old. They are: Thomas J. Bailey, 464 Inverness Drive, the scene of the party; Douglas G. Lindt, of the Inverness address; Robert S. Lindlsey, of the same address; Jack B. Sullivan, 41 Belmont Street, Daly City; John E. Nelson, San Francisco, and John E. Nelson, also of San Francisco.

Police say they responded to a call that the party was disturbing neighbors and ordered the juveniles to leave.

A short time later they returned after six more calls from neighbors were received.

A check of the house turned up a substance said to be marijuana as well as a hypodermic needle.

Bailey, Lindt and Lindlsey have been booked on charges of possession of marijuana, contributing to the delinquency of minors and disturbing the peace.

The other three were charged with disturbing and contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Police are also investigating what appear to be altered driving licenses found in the house.

Young Pupil Tranquilizer Use Is Told

Pressures to Blame, Says State Aide

By RON BATES

A state education official, speaking in Daly City last week, said some kindergarten students use tranquilizers and that this emphasizes the pressures and tensions school children face today.

Dr. Helen Heffernan, chief of the state division of elementary education, made the remarks in a talk to a group of parents and teachers at a dinner meeting of the Daly City Chapter of Childhood Education at Olympia School.

As a result of the pressures placed on the children by society, their parents, school organizations and practices and teachers, enrollment in class for the emotionally disturbed is soaring, she said, and no problem merits more attention than this.

Concerning pressures from society, she pointed out that no generation of children before has ever had to face the possibility of complete annihiliation.

"It's not the joyous world we romantic adults think of when we think of youth," she said. "Children need a sense of worth and they're having a tough time finding anything to do that's worth doing."

She said that many families without ties or roots and young adults, still children themselves, are starting families.

Students are dropping out of high school because there are no classes for them, she said.

"We must be willing to innovate our educational system," she said, "to meet the student dropout problem. It is not just a high school problem. It can begin in kindergarten."

Parents are another major source of pressure on the youngster, she said.

Dr. Heffernan cited a case in Cleveland where a ten-year-old boy shot himself because he had failed three subjects and was faced with the possibility of repeating the fifth grade.

She told the group of another case in New Jersey where a boy, whose father wanted him to be an engineer, made a circle of test papers he had failed and hanged himself because he felt his parents would be disappointed in him.

"Suicide is the sixth highest cause of death in adolescence," she said.

Dr. Heffernan said that the pressure to succeed academically actually hinders the child's learning process. The child feels he has to learn the subject matter and pass the test rather than really understand the problem.

She said of the gifted child program:

"The children are getting smarter than us. They realize that they have to work three times as hard in the gifted child section to get a C-grade than they do to get an A in the slow group."

Concerning the pressures exerted by school organizations and practices, Dr. Heffernan said, that the concept of classifying the youngster according to his reading ability is wrong.

Once he gets into the low group he stays there, she said.

"The Lord never meant them to be classified, and no amount of administrative tinkering will make them all alike."

She stressed that children are unique individuals and should be treated as such.

"We have seven per cent of the world's population and 55 per cent of the world's wealth," Dr. Heffernan noted. "Surely we can afford to create an environment that is favorable to learning."

Touching on the pressures from teachers, she gave several suggestions to help the child want to learn.

They included letting children be gregarious and to share things, urging them to manipulate and construct things, letting them play and encouraging them to be creative.

Political Notes

George Murphy, Republican candidate for the United States Senate, will appear Monday at 5 p.m. at the Westborough Sales Pavilion to meet voters in the Westborough, South San Francisco and San Bruno areas.

Charles Shaw, president of the Westborough Republicans, said that a series of kaffeeklatsches will be held for Congressman J. Arthur Younger, State Sen. Richard Dolwig and Andrew Byrd, candidate for the Assembly.

Mrs. Florence O'Rourke has been named chairman of the Westlake Committee for the re-election of Congressman J. Arthur Younger. She met recently with the San Mateo County congressman and Mrs. Sanford Hanrahan, county chairman of the Women's Younger Committee to discuss plans for his campaign. Mrs. O'Rourke is a Democrat.

State Senator Richard J. Dolwig, campaigning for re-election, said he will sponsor legislation next January to permit county tax relief for elder citizens.

Dolwig said the legislation would grant any person over 65 a special tax exemption on real property where it is used solely as a residence for that person.

Dolwig also announced plans for two San Mateo County projects—the $100,000 renovation of the County Fair and Fiesta Building and the purchase of 733.59 acres to be added to four coastal beach parks.

The beach acquisitions are from a $2-million state fund obtained for San Mateo County Beach Park Department by Dolwig after wildlife conservation and recreation groups requested his assistance.

"Richard Dolwig won't be elected as San Mateo County's man in the state Senate," said his opponent. Democrat William J. Graham, "because he's deeply committed on the wrong side of issues the people care too much about to ignore."

Graham said Dolwig is "wrong on the right-wing extremism, he's wrong on Proposition 14—and his own record warrants close examination as to conflicts of interest!"

The Democratic candidate said that people will not forget that Dolwig was one of only three California senators to back Barry Goldwater before the primary.

Andrew C. Byrd, Republican nominee for state assemblyman from the Twenty-seventh District, has apponted Clay Barham, over-all co-ordinator of volunteers.

A Good Deed Noted

ULMONT R. KENDREE, right, managing director of shopping centers for Henry Doelger Builder Incorporated, presents a gold watch to service department employe Freeman King as a reward from company president Henry Doelger for King's honesty in returning a lost check to a retired Colma man.

He'll Remember That Lucky Day

Freeman King of 300 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City, an employe in the service department of Henry Doelger Builder, Inc., will always remember September 18 as a lucky day —lucky because of his own inherent honesty.

On that day a couple weeks ago as he hopped out of his truck to answer a complaint call at 201 Palmcrest Drive, he spotted a check lying on the sidewalk.

The figures read $900 and Kinr saw that it was negotiable. It was made out to Marshall Hayden of 520 Midway Avenue, Broadmoor, and as he found out later, it represented a settlement from Hayden's insurance company.

King turned the check in to his superiors who traced the check to Hayden. The Broadmoor resident, who is retired, was notified and claimed the check.

He insisted that King accept a large reward but the maintenance man would only take a $10 bill.

However, King could hardly refuse the insistence of his boss and so last week, he humbly accepted a gold watch for his honesty from Henry Doelger, presented by Ulmont R. Kendree, managing director of shopping centers for the Doelger organization.

Signups for Medical Self Help Slated

Persons who missed the Mateo County's pilot program of Medical Self-Help will have another opportunity when another session begins at Westmoor High School at 7 p.m. next Wednesday or at Westview School in Pacifica tonight.

Daly City Mayor Micheal DeBernardi has proclaimed this week "Medical Self Help Week" and urged citizens to learn about the program.

Mrs. Louis Lengfeld, county chairman of the program, said the porgram is designed to teach one person in every four what to do if the doctor is not able to come.

The classes are being taught by doctors, dentists, veterinarians, optomitrists, pharmacists, registered nurses and medical and dental assistants.

The course of instruction includes almost all pahses of medical assistance from minor first aid to emergency childbirth.

Now, through public request, a simple and comprehensive lesson on earthquakes has been added, Mrs. Lengfeld said.

Persons interested in joining a class or forming a class in the neighborhood may obtain more information by writing to Medical Self-Help Headquarters at 218 Tilton Avenue, San Mateo or phoning 342-7679.

D. C. Employes Asked to Double Drive Donations

City employes in Daly City are being asked this year to almost double their 1963 contributions to the United Crusade Fund Drive according to David Rowe, administrative assistant.

Rowe said the goal for 230 employes has been set at $1,875, or approximately $8.15 per employe.

Last year the employes gave $908 or $4.61 per person with 89 per cent of the city staff participating.

The annual fund drive will be held during October and letters have been sent to three city employe associations asking for support, Rowe said.

At a department head meeting, former Millbrae Mayor Webb Witmer, chairman of the San Mateo County Municipal Employes division of the Crusade drive, noted that government employes have a poor record of Crusade contributions.

He asked that department heads express support of the drive and encourage their employes to do the same.

Witmer said the Bay Area goal has been set at $14-million and pointed out that 90.2 per cent of the contributions go to Crusade organizations and 9.8 per cent to administrative expenses.

WE FINALLY come to the column that originally and accidentally led us into our Karate comments of last week when we innocently asked hand-to-hand combat expert Ed Tomasello (D.C. Supervisor of Recreation) the old question: all things being equal, who would win, the boxer or the wrestler? He answered:

"I'll put wrestlers against the field—boxing, karate, judo. Wrestling is the basic, elementary, probably most ancient form of combat. Boxing and Judo are merely refinements of wrestling."

Ed then commenced to reel off his reasons for upgrading wrestling. Following are his capsule comments:

Wrestler versus Boxer — "To begin with, the wrestler's superiority in the ring has been proven time and time again, primarily in the colleges.

"I know of only one recorded case where a boxer has beaten a wrestler, and in that case the boxer happened to also be an outstanding wrestler.

"It really isn't a fair fight. A wrestler is trained to employ five weapons: both arms, both legs, and the head. The boxer is trained to use only his two fists.

"An efficient wrestler can move his whole body quicker than a boxer can move one hand. A wrestler usually gets behind the boxer, taking him down with his legs. Once on the mat, nobody can beat a wrestler.

"Even standing, the only chance a fighter would have would be to land the first punch and make it perfect enough to knock the wrestler cold, because once he slips that first punch, a wrestler would be in on the boxer and a boxer is dead if he can't move his arms to gain punching leverage."

Wrestling vs. Karate—"A wrestler would possibly have an even easier time against a Karate man than a boxer. Karate requires tenseness, concentration, rigidity to gain maximum force behind a blow aimed at a specific place.

Wrestler vs. Judo—"Standing, the judo man would have a chance, but once on the mat most judo men are helpless. I've never seen a judo man in this country who has any mat effectiveness, but understand that some of the real experts in the Orient are good on the mat.

"Another factor is that judo is most effective in its counter-movements, whereas wrestlers are taught both aggressive and counter-movements.

"Also, judo men are trained with their opponents wearing special judo jackets, which help gain leverage, the secret of judo. A wrestler wouldn't be wearing a jacket.

"Getting back to a judo man who can handle himself on the mat, I'll still take a wrestler, because wrestling conditions the whole body and is a far superior strength-buiding and conditioning sport. All things being equal, then, a wrestler would be stronger, tougher, have more endurance."

Judo vs. Karate—"This is argued in the Orient the way we argue about boxer-wrestler. I'd take judo, for the same reasons a wrestler would beat a boxer. Judo isn't inherently a vicious form of combat, but isn't as defensive as it's cracked up to be. A real expert can be almost as lethal as a Karate man. He can, for instance, throw a man in such a way as to snap his spine."

Boxer vs. Karate—A top American boxer can beat a karate man, because, again, Karate trains a man to anchor himself, deliver blows from a stiff and rigid stance. A good, nimble boxer would be behind a Karate man pummeling him before he could deliver a blow."

Tomasello concedes that a Gung-Fu man (Gung-Fu is an AGGRESSIVE form of Karate) might beat a wrestler, because a Gung-Fu artist is much more relaxed and graceful than a Karate man, and because he has many more effective counter-moves.

Again, though, once a wrestler gets inside and/or brings his man to the mat, the opponent, says Tomasello, is through.

Tomasello has one more interesting theory. He claims that boxing didn't originate in England, where the general credit has always lain. He explains:

"Ever see a picture of Tom Figg (first officially recognized boxing champion) or John L. Sullivan?" asks Tomasello. "That stiff, basic stance they used is almost identical to the basic Karate stance. I believe that fist-fighting started, as have almost all other forms of hand-to-hand combat, in the Orient."

NOW, AFTER HAVING read all of this about wrestlers, if any of you in Pacifica happen to know a horse ranch operator named Camilleri, don't mess with him.

That's the same Russ Camilleri who was a San Jose State and Olympic Club wrestling star and who'll be wrestling for our side in the Olympics this year in Tokyo.

THE PLIGHT of S.F. State publicist Sam Goldman had a happy eleventh hour ending just days before the Gator football season started when K-SOL (1450 KC, formerly KSAN), under the new leadership of Les Malloy and Del Courtney, hustled sponsors for Sam and State and put them all on the air.

SEEN AT CANDLESTICK: Stan Kroner, former San Francisco Seals batboy (circa 1943), Broadmoor resident and S. F. State football announcer, accompanied by four-year-old son, Steve, loaded down with autographed baseballs and undoubtedly the most knowledgeable four-year-old baseball fan we've ever met.

Eddie Montague Jr., Westmoor baseball player, son of Giant scout of the same name, alternately hawking soft drinks and watching the ball game, both of which he does expertly.

DID YOU KNOW . . . Dodger catcher Doug Camilli is the nephew of the late heavyweight contender, Frankie Campbell, killed in the ring by Max Baer in San Francisco 30 years ago . . . the Dodgers have hit fewer homers than any team in the majors. (Guess how the LA front office will be spending the winter) . . . More double-headers are won than are split . . . concessioneers hope for a long first inning because that's when they sell most of their goodies. After that, profits dwindle.

Jefferson Faces a Rebuilding Year

D.C. Eleven Loses Eight '63 Starters

(This is the third in a series of articles on North Peninsula League football teams and their prospects for the 1964 season.)

By JOHN HORGAN

If any coach has a right to get out the proverbial crying towel at this early date, it's Jefferson High School's Joe McGrath.

Not only has the Indian mentor lost eight of his starting eleven from 1963, but fate and the hand of the armed forces took away two tentative starting halfbacks before fall drills even began.

McGrath counting on the work of a pair of lightweight junior speedsters from the track team, found that both of the lads had moved out of the area due to commitments imparted on their parents by the Armed Froces.

Having greeted but 29 candidates for his varsity, the coach and his staff find that they have a major rebuilding job lacking in experience, but it also finds itself with a schedule which could prove disastrous (especially when one condiders that this club went 2-7 last year.)

On the bright side, however, the Jeffs have one of the better quarterbacks in the area in Rich Cuadra, a senior who came on in mid-season to fill the bill nicely for the aerial minded Redmen. He passed for better than 600 yards and had completion record of 55 per cent.

At center, Don Romero handles his position well and could be a possible all-league candidate in the eyes of his coach.

At fullback Al Namanny, the biggest back on the club at 185 pounds, is thought to be one of the finest in the North Peninsula league selection.

Besides these three, the Jeffs are light, slow and thin.

Not too well fixed at tackle, the Indians have Rich Kerry, Frank Tolivera, Bill Brown, Stan Patterson, and Chris Soto.

Guards are not so plentiful but the quality is better. Senior letterman Jim Crane holds down one of the first string spots, but the other position is up for grabs. Tom Kaiser and Jerry Romani seem to have the inside track on the other spot.

Ends are Paul Howe, Norm Swayer (who might be converted into a back), Bob Untalan, Rich Pacini, Frank Axiak and Dave Bergman.

Other backs include Mike Wong, Tom Sawyer, Tom Bettancourt, Dan Shelton, Neil Rochlin, Andy Foley, Jess Untalan, and possibly some others.

The Jeffs will toss the ball a lot with Cuadra at quarterback —the problem is getting him receivers and protection.

This season is a real question for us," says McGrath. "We lost so much off the first club and have so little coming back that I can't help but feel that we will be underdogs a good part of the year."

As last year the big bugaboo will be the defense which allowed the horrendous total of 204 markers on the season.

But with a quarterback like Cuadra at the helm anything is likely to happen and probably will.

QUARTERBACK Rich Cuadra hands off to Indian Fullback Al Namanny in a practice session at Jefferson. The duo is expected to account for a good deal of yardage in the Indians' try for the NPL crown this year. (Post-Times Photo)

Bowling Alley Completes A-2

The conversion of 52 pinsetters to the Brunswick A-2 feature has been completed at Swanson's Westlake Bowl in Daly City.

The accelerated ball return system on the automatic pinsetting equipment will enable bowlers to set a much faster pace.

According to John Swanson, proprietor, the accelerated cycle of the A-2 system shows a 40 per cent improvement in machine to bowler return time.

"From now on," he said, "bowlers can forget about waiting for the machine to reset the pins or return their ball. With the A-2, they'll find both ball and pins ready and waiting."

Grid Leagues Start Slated

The Daly City Recreation Department's touch football leagues will start play Saturday.

Because of problems in signing up enough teams in the fifth and eighth grade leagues, the start of these leagues will be held up until October 10.

This week, the sixth and seventh grade leagues will begin a schedule of practice games. Members of teams entered may find out their game time and opponent by calling the department at PL 5-0850.

There is still a need for teams in the fifth and eighth grade leagues. Interested parties can obtain information by calling the department.

Jess Neely is in his twenty-fifth season as Rice football coach. He's dean of the Southwest Conference coaches.

NORTH COUNTY SPORT SCENE

A VARIED ATTACK

Indians Nip Late Ravenswood Bid

The Jefferson High School Indians—much to their delight—learned the essence of the adage, "time marches on."

The Indians of coach Joe McGrath, who have had somewhat bad fortunes in the prep grid wars in recent years, are still undefeated after two games.

Jefferson defeated Ravenswood High School in a practice game on the Jeff gridiron Friday, 19-15. Previously, the Daly City team tied San Rafael, 7-7.

However, Friday's victory did not come before McGrath and his players suffered some agonizing moments.

With just seconds remaining, Ravenswood completed a pass play which brought them down to the Jeff one-yard line. However, before the Trojans, who had used all of their time-outs, could again assemble for one last play, the gun sounded, and Jeff had its first victory of 1964.

The Indians, using a varied attack, struck three vicious blows to the Trojan defense in the second period to walk off the field with a 19-0 intermission lead.

Quarterback Rich Cuadra started it in the second quarter when he found end Paul Howe with a 44-yard scoring toss. Tony Solaita converted to make it 7-0.

Next, fullback Steve Cavallero packed the ball in from two yards out to garner the Jeff's second touchdown. Cuadra put the capper of the Indian scoring just before the half when he clicked on a 15-yard scoring pass to end Bob Untalan.

Ravenswood came back in the third period when a bad snap from center on the Jeff 14 sent the ball out of the end zone for a safety and cut the score to 19-2. The Trojans then scored twice more in the final period on runs of 41 and six yards.

Ravenswood	0	0	2	13	—15
Jefferson	0	19	0	0	—19

Scoring: Jefferson—Howe, 44 pass from Cuadra (Solaita, kick); Cavallero, 2 yard run; Untalan, 15 pass from Cuadra. Ravenswood—Safety on snap out of end zone on punt attempt. Dan Gibson, 7-yard run (PAT run failed). Mel Easley, 40-yard run (PAT Easley run).

Tigers, Jeff A.C. Tie for Leadership

The PAL Tigers and Jefferson A.C. nines have been declared co-champions of the Daly City Recreation Department's Tri-City Baseball League.

The league, composed of six teams of freshmen and sophomore boys, saw George Pedroni's Tigers take the league championship and George Benson's Jeff Club capture the playoff round.

Key players for the league winners were Grady Proctor, Jeff Meitz, Terry Senn and Gregg Agar.

Ace hurler Tom Pritchard, backed by teammates Dan Caffaretta, George Egan and Terry Piccardo, paced the Jefferson A.C. team to their first place finish.

Other teams and their managers who participated in the round robin schedule were: Golden Eagles, Bob Kramer; Parkmerced, Rich Watso; S.S.F. Recs, Bob Brian; and Riordan A.C., Roy McKercher.

What if you only need part of a Volkswagen?

You're in luck.

Parts of Volkswagens are easier to get than whole ones.

Any part. For any year.

That's the nice thing about making the same car year-in and year-out.

You can spend your time fiddling with the insides instead of the outside.

Volkswagen's made some 3,000 improvements in their little car and hundreds of them fit their oldest models, too.

(Did you know you can get parts for a 15-year-old VW faster than for some of the new jobs around?)

Volkswagen parts are also easy to install. For instance, the fenders are bolted on. (10 bolts do it. So you don't have to replace half the car.)

And the whole engine can be replaced in an hour and a half.

Of course, as you think about this, you may prefer to get all the new parts at once.

We have such a package.

Sharks Shipwrecked in 48-0 Loss to Pirates

The Sir Francis Drake Pirates sailed up on Oceana's shores Friday and left a field of Sharks shipwrecked.

The Sharks were overwhelmed by the San Anselmo visitors, 48-0.

The onslaught began when Drake halfback Dean Lazzarini ran the opening kickoff back for a touchdown. From then on, the Pirates passed and ran their way almost at will.

At the end of the first quarter, the Pirates had racked up a 28-0 lead.

In the third quarter, the Sharks made it to the 18-yard line where Steve Rentmeester attempted a field goal. A Pirate hand, however, deflected the ball.

Oceana Coach Jess Jones blamed a breakdown in blocking for the Shark loss.

He said his charges realize their mistakes, however, and hope to bounce back against Crestmoor on Friday.

The Pirates were co-champions with San Rafael in their league last year and are tabbed favorites to repeat.

Shark quarterbacks Steve McCaughey and Jim Maule connected on seven of 16 pass attempts.

MILLS ALMOST WINS

S.S.F. Halted in Viking Deadlock

The South San Francisco Warriors, favorites to win it all this year in the North Peninsula League, ran into a determined Mills High School eleven Friday and came away with a 19-19 tie.

The upset-minded Vikings almost came up with all the marbles in the final minutes of play but fumbled on the Warrior one-yard line to see their chances wiped out.

Ray DeJong's eleven came right back with a drive which began on their own 37. In 11 plays and 4 first downs, the Warriors tallied the tying TD on tailback Greg Jones' two-yard scamper.

Once more, Mills came back with a score of their own to take the lead at 12-6 on an 11-yard run by the swift Kreidt. Again, the kick failed.

On the next series of downs, the tenacious Warriors moved up the field from their own 20 and scored on a brilliant 31-yard run by the seemingly indestructible Jones.

Score by Quarters

Mills	6	6	0	7	—19
SSF	6	7	0	6	—19

Scoring—Mills—Kinsella, 28 pass from Webb (kick failed); SSF—Jones, 2 run (kick failed); Mills—Kreidt, Irvin (kick failed); SSF—Jones, 31 run (Olson kick); SSF—Moro, 32 run (kick failed); Mills—Joost, 83 KO return (Kreidt run).

Colts Gain Tie Against Capuchino

By GARRY NIVER

The fans on both sides of the field were deprived of rationalizing for a loss in South San Francisco Friday night.

The Colts of El Camino, operating as the hosts on South SF's Clifford field, and the Capuchino Mustangs, playing the role of the benevolent visitor, rocked, smashed, rumbled and fumbled to a 13-13 tie before 1,500 awed customers.

Capuchino got the first score with just 31 seconds remaining in the first period. Fullback Tony Gallagher scampered in from 12 yards out to give the 'Tangs a 6-0 lead.

Camino's first tying tally took place in the third period of play. Mike Tyler, rolling to his left on a fourth and goal situation, fired a perfect strike to halfback Russ Outlaw which was good for 14 yards and Colt score.

However, a little more than three minutes later the Mustangs came marching right back up the field for a score. Jerry Richards capped the 67-yard drive by sweeping left end on a 24-yard scoring jaunt.

With a little less than seven minutes remaining in the game, Colt defender Jim Cassandras picked off an awry Richards pass on the Cap 43 yard line and raced it back to the 21. Four plays later Tyler bolted in from the three-year line on a quarterback sneak.

Rams Bow to Woodside as Rally Fails

A two touchdown rally in the final period was too late and too short for Westmoor High School in a practice football game Friday.

The Rams bowed to Woodside High School, 27-13, as the Wildcats scored in every period to hand the Rams their first defeat of the 1964 season. Westmoor defeated Fremont in its opener.

The Rams' touchdowns came on Mike Elston's ten-yard pass to John Prince and a two-yard run by Tom Rodrigues.

John Cooney, 63, coach with the Chicago White Sox started his career with the 1921 Boston Braves.

FIRST '64 WIN

Coleman Paces Tiger Victory

If you had to single out one outstanding player in Terra Nova's 14-12 squeaker over Lick-Wilmerding Friday, nobody could question the choice of Ron Coleman.

The Terra Nova end did this:

1—Caught a 15-yard touchdown pass.

2 — Caught a 20-yard touchdown pass.

3—Kicked both of the crucial and deciding extra points.

4—Was outstanding on defense.

The Tigers of coach Bob Fischer nabbed first win of the 1964 season in defeating Lick Wilmerding on the Terra Nova Field.

"Our boys were a lot more aggressive today than last week," said Fischer. "We played good ball most of the way, with the exception of the fourth quarter when we fumbled four times," he added.

Fischer went on to single out the efforts of Coleman, quarterback and linebacker Mike LaFontaine, halfback Mike Kenney and fullback Larry Jenkins.

Another hero who emerged in the Tiger victory was linebacker Bruce Childers who picked off an L-W pass near the Terra Nova end zone just as the gun went off.

Proposition 14 Must Be Denied

THE MOST CONTROVERSIAL proposition to be voted upon by the electorate on November 3 is Proposition 14, which prohibits the State of California and tis subdivisions from denying, limiting or abridging in any way the right of any person to decline to sell, lease or rent any part of his real property to any person or persons as he in his absolute discretion chooses.

In effect this proposition declares thet the State Legislature, the boards of supervisors of the various counties, and the city councils of our various California cities are absolutely prohibited from enacting any legislation to prevent racial discrimination in the sale, lease or rental of real property.

Proposition 14 is being promoted in large part by the real estate interests of this state. The sponsors of this measure feel strongly that unless the state and its subdivisions are forever prohibited from meddling with the rights of individuals to deal with their property as they see fit, much mischief will be caused and the constitutional rights of the property owners will be substantially abridged.

There is undoubtedly much to be said for this view and in urging a "No" vote on the measure we are not overlooking the fact that property rights will be interfered with, and will be abridged, and that much mischief will be caused, particularly as a result of false claims that property owners are discriminating because of race in the sale, lease or rental of their property.

BUT EVERY achievement in the social progress of this country has involved some interference with property rights, some loss of absolute discretion, and some risk of mischievous false claims. The property owners living in the Confederacy lost their property right to own slaves at the conclusion of the Civil War. The owners of the great monopolies and trusts of this country lost property rights as a result of the antitrust laws that were enacted around the turn of the century.

The graduated income tax has taken away property rights that previously existed. Yet despite these and other limitations upon individual property rights, the country has continued to prosper and at the same time great social progress has been achieved.

Although we do not subscribe to the views advanced by the professional politicians who are opposing Proposition 14 that anyone who votes in favor of this measure is a bigot or a dispenser of hate, we most certainly believe that in the existing highly charged atmosphere of national concern over civil rights, the enactment of Proposition 14 will most certainly be interpreted by the minority groups and particularly those of the negro race as a signal that there is no hope in the foreseeable future to break down existing racial barriers relative to the ownership and renting of property.

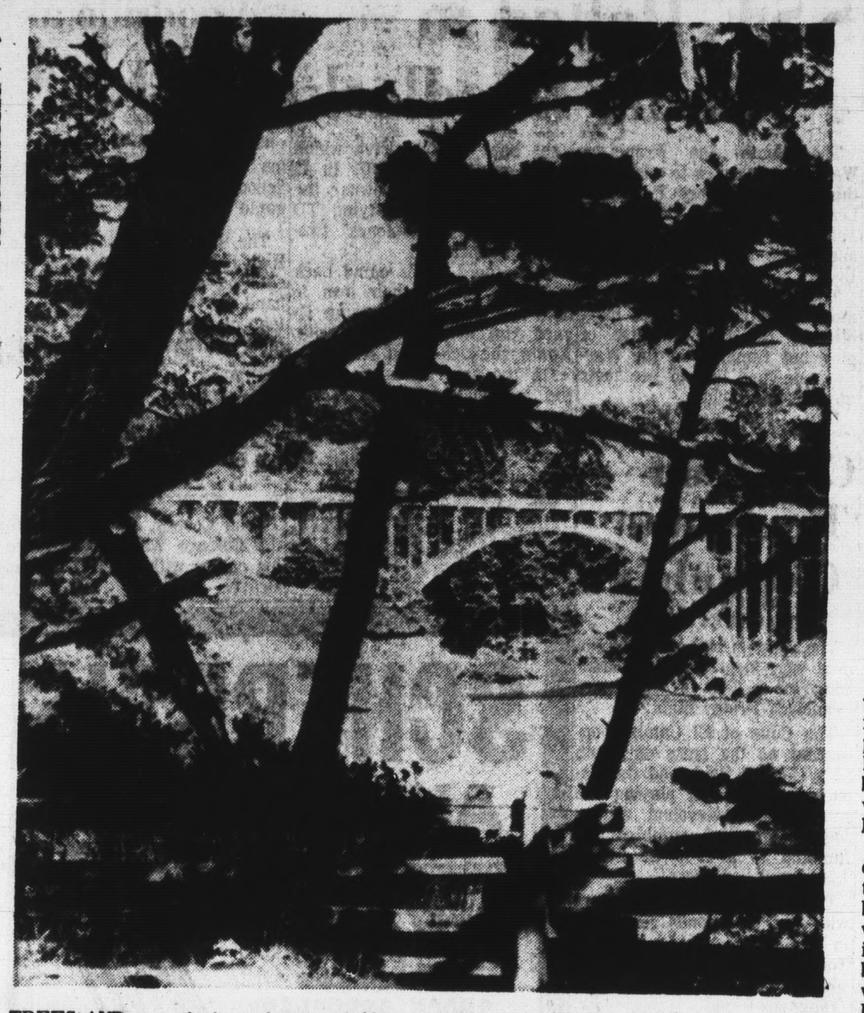
In short, if Proposition 14 passes, the voters of this state will have said to the minority class: "You are stuck and we intend that you will stay stuck. There is no hope for you ever in this state."

WE CANNOT, as Proposition 14 proposes, forever tie the hands of the Legislature and its subdivisions so that they may never act in the future with reference to racial discrimination problems affecting real property.

The Post takes no position at this time as to whether the Rumford Act goes too far or does not go far enough, but at the very least we must leave the Legislature and other political bodies in the position as Proposition 14 would do if it were passed.

Vote "No" on Proposition 14.

Russian Gulch State Park



TREES AND a rustic fence frame a bridge in Russian Gulch State Park, situated on the Coast Highway, just south of Ft. Bragg in Mendocino County. Visitors to the gulch see a waterfall, a long canyon extending far into the back country, a broad beach, a blowhole near the ocean that roars and thunders with each surge of the Pacific and rugged, flowered headlands. Camping facilities may be found in the canyon. Fog is prevalent during summer evenings and mornings. This is another in a series on parks and historical areas within a day's driving time of the North County.

Pacific Parade

Upstairs at San Simeon

Don Miller

THOSE OF YOU who have taken the tour through Hearst Castle at San Simeon and always wondered what additional medieval treasures were in the rooms above can satisfy that curiosity—at long last!

For now the castle has an upper floors jaunt and this new ramble through the ages is, in some respects, even more of an eye-opener that the tour along the castle's main drag.

It is a look at the soul of a man, at what he treasured most, at what he read in his library, at the manner in which he relaxed away from the business of running a newspaper empire, at the magnificent view he saw from the windows of his Gothic-style bedroom high in one of the towers that dominate La Casa Grande—the main house of Hearst Castle.

This upstairs-at-the-Hearst's tour gives the visitor a look at 28 of La Casa Grande's 100 rooms—28 rooms never before open to the public. It lasts two hours—including the half hour it takes to reach the castle and return by limousine—and most of the time it's like walking through three thousand years of history.

Each guide must have a degree in art or equivalent. We were fortunate on our visit the other day to be shepherded along by Barbara Sewell, an enthusiastic young lady who was not only an authority on Hearst's incredible collection of ancient art and furnishings but also turned out to be a tactful diplomat when the inevitable question about Marion Davies came up.

OUR UPSTAIRS meandering began at the tennis courts, the point where the ground floor tour ends. We entered a side door, walked past a large double-doored vault that had served as a wine cellar and wound our way up a narrow, spiral stairway to the first of several bedrooms we were to see.

Like all of the castle's rooms, the ceiling is something special and in this case, it had been brought over from Europe bearing the work of a 17th century French artist in the manner of Michelangelo's paintings on the ceiling of St. Peter's in Rome.

Miss Sewell quipped that "you have to go to bed to appreciate your ceiling" and when you stopped to consider that for a moment, she was absolutely right.

The room also has a 17th century fireplace, inside window shutters that had once graced a Spanish church and chairs built in the 16th century. As is the case in every room, the antique furniture vies with overstuffed chairs decorated with the gaudy flower-print slip covers of the 1930s.

Hearst wanted his guests to be comfortable in their yesteryear surroundings and he was only too aware that a straight-backed hand-me-down from four centuries ago wasn't exactly the most restful place to sit down for a chat.

The bedroom and all the others, for that matter, suffer from one major deficiency that a 20th century housewife would be the first to holler about—a small closet. In fact, closet space in Hearst Castle—both upstairs and down—is woefully frugal and as Miss Sewell pointed out, architect Julia Morgan apparently didn't care much for clothes.

In most rooms, the closets look like they were tacked on as an afterthought. In some, they are practically hidden. The late Aldous Huxley, after a weekend visit to La Casa Grande, wrote that he never did find the closet for his bedroom and hung his clothes over chairs and bedposts.

AFTER THE BEDROOMS—the house has 38 of them—our tour moved into the main library, a room that looks like something you'd see in a Moorish castle, which is understandable for its ceiling once was part of a castle built by the Moors. On the floor is a 34-foot by 24-foot Persian rug with more than 19-million hand-tied knots, the lifetime work of a craftsman.

However, the star attraction of the library is a collection of vases that line the top of the bookshelves. None of the pottery is any younger than 2200 years and each is decorated with a drawing that, in essence, is a true reflection of life in the era in which it was created.

After the library, the tour wended its way up still another spiral staircase to the high-point of the upstairs walk—the Gothic suite that was the private quarters of Hearst.

His bedroom is smaller than you would have imagined because it is situated in one of the towers. The room is dominated by a 15th century, four-poster bed with a canopy overhead, three overstuffed chairs, a photograph of his father and a framed excerpt from a poem by Sir Edward Bulver Lytton, which Hearst believed exactly fit the description of his castle.

From Hearst's bedroom, the tour moved through a hallway into another bedroom opposite in the other tower. This room has two old poster beds and the usual collection of paintings and antiques.

Miss Sewell did not, as she had with each room up to that point, preface her description of the room by telling whose it was or what it was used for. Finally, a woman asked and Miss Sewell paused a moment, then politely inquired if the woman knew the story of the family. When she said she didn't, the guide replied:

"This was not Mrs. Hearst's room." And then in answer to the unanswered question, she added: "Let's say it was an association of 33 years. Yes, this was Marion's room."

Nothing further was said on this point and we silently awarded Miss Sewell a gold medal for the way she had fielded a delicate question.

THE TOUR took us on through Hearst's private library, down more spiral stairs, through Mrs. Hearst's room, into a cavernous kitchen and out again into bright sunlight bathing La Cuesta Encantada—Hearst's "enchanted hill."

Later we learned that the main drag and upper floor tours together cover three-fifths of the castle. After seeing what we've seen so far in the three-fifths, it's hard to believe there can be more of the same.

But there surely is, Miss Sewell assured us, and so we'll just have to wait until those last doors are opened and all this curiosity business can finally be declared under control.

North County Notebook

Unification and Representation

Ron Bates

I SEE WHERE the U. S. Senate got itself off the hook for a couple of months on the reapportionment controversy.

The hassle all began last June when the Supreme Court ruled that the state legislatures would have to be shuffled so that their members would represent districts of substantially equal population.

The Senate's action in urging the courts to give the states more time to reapportion was little more than a slap on the wrist to the courts. If they want to, the courts could ignore the action.

The problem of equal representation goes way back in the history of our country. That's one of the reasons our forefathers tried to make that gigantic mess of tea back in Boston.

On the state level, reapportionment could mean that southern California, particularly Los Angeles, could be in a position to say what goes on up north because the population is weighted down there.

A QUESTION of equal representation came up locally on the proposed unification of the Jefferson, Bayshore and Brisbane elementary school districts and was the primary issue debated at both the meeting when the unification was approved and at a public hearing.

The student population of the Jefferson Elementary District is something like 9,000-plus. The Brisbane district is around 700 and Bayshore something like 500.

When the makeup of the new proposed unified board was discussed, the Jefferson District suggested that the board be made up of seven members with five from its district and one each from Bayshore and Brisbane.

This didn't even get to the voting stage because the members from Brisbane and some of the committee members immediately voiced objection.

THE JEFFERSON trustees withdrew the proposal and made a new motion that a five man board be created with all members being elected at large.

This was voted on and overwhelmingly defeated.

In a way, I guess that Brisbane and Bayshore could be likened to the colonists who dressed up like Indians and dumped all that tea into Boston Harbor.

It is Brisbane and Bayshore that will supply most of the tax dollar for the unified district because of their industry.

IF WE GO along with the tenet, however, that the Supreme Court interprets the law and we must obey it, then the Jefferson trustees are in the right.

As Board Chairman O. Wayne Douglas pointed out in his argument at the public hearing, voters are being "disenfranchised' 'of their vote or their vote "diluted" in our methods of electing representatives.

He said that two trustees (Brisbane and Bayshore) would represent an average of 600 students while the three Jefferson trustees would represent better than 3,000 each.

I have a feeling that this question of representation will be debated for a long time to come.

LOOKING BACK at the action of the State Board of Education on two south county unification proposals, it appears that the proposal to unify the three north county elementary districts may never come to pass.

It's interesting to note that James Tormey, the county superintendent of schools who who had to sign the documents forwarding the unification plans calling for two high school splits in the south county, added a footnote that his signature did not signify endorsement of the unification plans.

The state board has been pretty tough on the question of high school splits and the chances of the Jefferson High School District remaining intact seem to be much greater than they were a couple of months ago.

Peninsula Panorama

Mayhem Inc. in The Vegetables

George Whitesell

A GENTLE READER sent us word the other day that a half hour spent viewing customers at the vegetable department of a super market might prove interesting.

We took her up on it and spent more than an hour—it was a fascinating show.

And we came away with a hearty respect for the self-control of the vegetable men who manage and service these departments.

Surely no one else is subject to such a constant strain and such a constant temptation to either homicide or suicide.

The roughest going, by far, is the fruit section.

On the day we made our observations one of the leading specials was strawberries. They were neatly arranged in their little baskets and the crates had been carefully arranged so that none of the berries would be bruised.

But we soon saw that strawberry buyers are the most suspicious people in the world. None of them, except a few timid touls, were about to buy the first basket to come to hand.

They seem to prefer the third basket from the back, three crates down.

★ ★ ★

TO GET THIS ONE, they don't seem to care what happens to the rest of the baskets. This leads to spilling and squashing.

Other buyers are highly selective and take to switching the top berries around from basket to basket.

But the most suspicious of all still think that the prize berries are on top of each basket. They calmly dump out a basket and refill it by selecting all the choice berries in sight.

We noted that these particular berry-pickers were at some pains to pile their baskets as high as possible at the expense of the baskets left.

★ ★ ★

ONE WOMAN who filled her baskets in this way was still unsatisfied after she had checked out her purchases and returned for a second picking-over of the berries.

Next to the berries were the bananas which had all been neatly cut in "hands" of the same approximate weight.

This seemed to satisfy very few shoppers. They would weigh several "hands," shake their heads and then proceed to rip the bananas off the "hands" by main force and make up a selection of their own.

A display of grapes was not moving fast, sales-wise, but the top bunches had a moth-eaten look from the number of "samples" eaten by the shoppers. We noted, however, that the grape samplers showed admirable restraint — they took only one grape each.

Many buyers, it seems depend upon their nose for making a choice.

Peaches and cantaloupes were subjected to a thorough sniffing by a lot of the prospective purchasers.

What still puzzles us is a lady who sniffed over a Papaya that was cradled in a paper tub and thoroughly sealed in a plastic wrapping. It evidently pleased her because she put it in her shopping basket.

Over in the green vegetables we observed a sort of game that could only be called "celery shuffling." Celery buyers never take the first stalk they pick up. They juggle at least three before making a selection.

THERE WERE several curosities about the lettuce section where five different varieties of lettuce were offered.

The oddest was that we did not see a single man buy lettuce. On the basis of buying habits it must be a feminine vegetable.

The lady patrons did not handle the lettuce with any delicacy. They squeezed the heads, tried to peer into the hearts, tossed back the rejects like they were playing basketball.

Few of them had any compunction about stripping off the outside lettuce leaves, although the lettuce was being sold by weight.

Finally we discovered that it is true what they say about avocado squeezers and melon thumpers.

These impulses seem to be universally irresistible.

How do the vegetable men keep from going scatty? As near as we could tell—by hiding in the backroom where they can't see what is going on.

The Marquee

On Stage Overseas

Barbara Bladen

IF I WERE a building or health inspector instead of a drama critic, Bay Area theatres would get the stamp of approval. After attending theatres in New York, London and Ireland this past month, I'll never complain about the Curran or Geary again.

WHILE THE THEATRES are small and old in London, they offer a charming gesture which I sincerely wish we could institute, a tea or coffee (at your seat) during intermission. The order is mentioned to the doorman as he takes your ticket and jots the seat number down on a form marked "tea" or "coffee." There it is the moment the curtain descends, on a tray with cream and sugar, personally served by the usherette.

That type of refreshment is available in the bar area in most European theatres. Soft drinks, liquor, beer and sampler boxes of chocolates can also be bought. But the seats are small and hard, usally in a state of disrepair.

Thereatregoers are offered a great variety in London, from top Broadway musicals and plays, to tense avant garde dramas. There are vestiges of the outdated music hall revues, such as "Salad Days" which we saw out at the New Lyric Theatre in Hammersmith. Billed as the longest running British musical, it is reminiscent of "Fantasticks."

THE NATIONAL THEATRE Company was performing at the Edinburgh Drama Festival and there were spellbinding Shakespearean productions at Stratford-on-Avon. But so many of the big shows in London right now are ones that we'd seen here. "Oliver," "Camelot," "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," "Sound of Music," "Funny Thing Happened, etc." So we caught those which had received good London reviews that probably wouldn't tour.

The best cure for complaining about the price of tickets here on the West Coast is to go to New York where top price is nine dollars and the average balcony seat, when you can get them, is five or six dollars.

The Book Shelf

By SAMUEL CHANDLER
Daly City Librarian

GEORGE GAMOW'S fans have kept his latest book, "A Planet Called Earth," in constant circulation. For them, a Gamow book in popular science is an experience to be shared.

One of the first of these, "Mr. Tomkins Explores the Atom," has become somewhat of a classic in the field.

Through the dreams of a central character, it illustrates the behavior of electrons and atoms.

The dreams are followed with simple lectures while the text is illustrated with the author's own drawings.

SOME OF the Gamow books that explain science are: 'One, Two, Three . . . Infinity," "The Moon," "Biography of the Earth," "Matter, Earth, and Sky," "Mr. Tomkins Learns the Facts of Life," "Mr. Tomkins in Wonderland," and "The Biograhpy of Physics."

Not all of George Gamow's books are popularizers. His works in nuclear physics and space sciences have established him with leading scientists even bringing him into association with such men as Lord Rutherford and Dr. Edward Teller.

His research at the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory and for the United States Navy and Air Force contributed to the development of the atomic age.

A GREAT SENSE of humor is one of the reasons that the astute scholar can interpret science for the public.

Without condescension, he uses witty dialogues and humorous drawings to drive home his points.

Critics have called his works simple yet vivid, stimulating, clear, bold and finally satisfying.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

AMID TEARS of joy, the young ladies who won this year's prizes in Pillsbury's Grand National Bake-Off accepted their winnings. The winning recipes were exciting and obviously delicious for the judges were a most distinguished and experienced group.

This year's winning recipes are already being featured in many papers and magazines so to offer them here would be repetitious. So we will review some of the winners from past years—starting eleven years ago at the 4th Grand National when these Snappy Turtle Cookies won the $25,000 grand prize. I've made them many times and think that they justly deserved it.

SNAPPY TURTLE COOKIES

- 1½ cups sifted flour
- ¼ teaspoon soda
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup butter
- ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 egg and
- 1 egg yolk (reserve the white)
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla
- ⅛ teaspoon maple flavoring (if desired)
- pecan halves

Sift the dry ingredients together. (Or if you are using the instant flour, simply mix together.) Cream the butter, add the brown sugar, creaming well. Add the egg and egg yolk beat well. Blend in the vanilla and and lastly add the sifted dry ingredients, gradually. Mix well. (Dough will be soft. Chill if desired.)

Arrange the split pecan halves in groups of three or five on greased baking sheets to resemble head and legs of turtle. Mold the dough into balls; dip bottoms into unbeaten egg white and press lightly onto nuts. Use a rounded teaspoonful of dough for each so tips of nuts will show when cookie is baked. Bake in moderate oven (350-degrees) 10 to 12 minutes. Do not overbake. Cool and frost tops generously. Makes 2½ dozen.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING

- 2 squares chocolate or ⅓ cup semi-sweet chocolate bits
- ¼ cup milk
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 cup confectioners sugar. (sifted)

Combine the chocolate or chocolate bits with milk and butter in top of double boiler. Heat over boiling water until chocolate melts; blend until smooth. Remove from heat; add the sifted confectioners sugar. Beat until thin and glossy. If too thin, add additional confectioners sugar until of desired consistancy.

THIS TOASTY coconut orange cake won a best-of-class prize. It's quite simple to make and most delicious.

TOASTY COCONUT ORANGE CAKE

- 2¼ cups sifted flour (or instant flour)
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ¾ cup shortening
- 1⅓ cup sugar
- 4 egg yolks
- ¾ cup butter milk or sour milk
- 1 teaspoon orange extract
- 4 egg whites

Sift together the dry ingredients. Blend together the shortening and sugar, creaming well. Add the four egg yolks and beat for one minute. Combine the buttermilk and vanilla. Add alternately with the dry ingredients to creamed mixture, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Blend thoroughly after each addition. Beat the four egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into batter gently but thoroughly.

Pour into well-greased and lightly floured 13-by-9-by-2-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven (350-degrees) 35 to 45 minutes. Spread with orange-coconut topping. Place under broiler to brown, let it just become a golden brown, two to five minutes.

ORANGE-COCONUT TOPPING

- ¼ cup butter
- ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 3 tablespoons orange juice
- ¾ coconut

Cream the butter and brown sugar and blend in the orange juice and coconut. Note: to sour sweet milk, add 2½ tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice to ¾ cup sweet milk.

It's too late for us to win any prizes with these recipes but we can win fulsome praise from the members of our family. And that's just as good as money (but harder to spend).

MRS FRANK BULLERI, newly elected president of Riordan Guild, announced last week that the Guild's annual luncheon and fashion show at Riordan High School will be held on November 7. Further information may be obtained from fashion show chairman, Mrs. Albert Bucci at Plaza 5-4333.

A little leftover cooked ham? Dice it fine and add it to a tomato sauce—plain or with meat—for spaghetti.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

MOST PARENTS look forward to that first day of kindergarten, like their offspring, with mixed emotions and frequently a sense of foreboding. One group of children and parents can face the day with confidence and excited anticipation for they have already worked out many of teh common problems that result from sudden exposure to a new peer group, separation from home and mother and the assumption of authority by a total stranger.

In case you haven't guessed, this specially blessed group consists of youngsters and mothers who have taken advantage of the YWCA's marvelous Creative Play Session. These thoughtfully conceived classes with their devoted faculties have done much to smooth the paths of children awaiting that magic day when school begins. The contribution to the stability of new kindergarteners who have been a part of this program has been affirmed by public school teachers and principals of many of the local grammer schools, according to Y officials.

Creative Play Coordinator Mrs. Hal Fox said the continued growth of the program has enabled the YWCA to expand the operation to include sessions five days a week at the Westlake Clubhouse, opposite Fernando Rivera School, and at the Westmoor Park Clubhouse, just behind Westmoor High School. Classes also are available at the Lincoln Park Clubhouse and at the Daly City War Memorial Community Center one day a week.

Teaching the classes—designed to help the children explore new horizons, take part in craft activities and learn about music, community friends and to introduce them to stories and rhythms—are Mrs. Cathy Gilligan, Mrs. Joyce Scramaglia, Mrs. Adele Leopold, Mrs. Marty Sugreue and Mrs. Fox. The YWCA conducts the groups in eight-week sessions at a cost of $7 per child. Mothers are asked to help once during the course with refreshments, Mrs. Fox said.

The new term is just getting underway and some space is still available so if you have a son or a daughter, 3, 4 or 5 years of age, Mrs. Fox urges careful consideration of this program. More information may be obtained by calling the office of the YWCA at PLaza 6-7370.

HERE'S WHAT PROPOSITION 17, THE "SKELETON-CREW" SCHEME, WOULD DO:

WIPE OUT public supervision of railroad safety in California ☐ DEPRIVE the Public Utilities Commission and the Legislature of their rights to protect public safety ☐ KILL California's Minimum Safe Crew Law ☐ LEGALIZE "skeleton crews" ☐ SURRENDER to the railroads control over train safety practices ☐ FREEZE into the State Constitution the sole right of the railroads to decide safe crew requirements ☐ PERMIT the railroads to put their profits before your safety ☐ INCREASE sharply the chance of disastrous train wrecks in California.

[FOR THE RECORD: PRESIDENTS EISENHOWER, KENNEDY AND JOHNSON HAVE ALWAYS SUPPORTED RAILROAD SAFETY LAWS— the California Minimum Crew Law is just such a safety measure!]

On election day, Tuesday, Nov. 3rd, the railroad companies are asking you, the people of California, to vote away your rights as citizens...to hand over to the railroads full power to decide the number of train crewmen necessary for public safety.

This vital control over railroad safety laws is now held by your elected State Legislature and by the Public Utilities Commission. Proposition 17, the "skeleton-crew scheme" sponsored by the powerful California Railroad Association, would repeal California's Minimum Crew Law—a safety law which has prevented untold loss in lives and property ...and given California one of the best railroad safety records in the nation.

At the same time, Prop. 17 would eliminate public supervision of railroad safety in California. It would leave the railroads completely free to cut the size of train crews as they see fit...below the present safe minimums now prescribed by law. In short, it would leave the question of public safety vs. private profit solely in the hands of the railroads.

Board of Rabbis Oppose No. 14

Opposition to Proposition 14 has been judged to be part of the Jewish moral and religious commitment by the Board of Rabbis of Northern California; according to board president Rabbi Sanford E. Rosen.

Every rabbi in the region has been asked to clarify the position of Judaism on the issue of discrimination in at least one sermon during the High Holy Days of Rosh Hashonah (New Year) and Yom Kippur (Day of Atonement), Rabbi Rosen said.

In the same communication, rabbis and Jewish congregational leaders were asked to urge congregants to support Californians Against Proposition 14 by volunteering their services and making financial contributions.

Local Man Named Head Of Branch

DAVID HUTCHISON
Heads Office

David B. Hutchison of 1270 Southgate Avenue in Daly City, has been named to manage the Home Mutual Savings and Loan Association, according to announcement by Charles Wellman, president.

Hutchison joined Home Mutual Savings at the downtown office as a management trainee in early 1962, after eight years in construction and insurance. Moving up to savings supervisor in May, 1962, he served as relief manager at other branches of the company until assignment to the Geary Street branch.

A business administration graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, he received his bachelor of science degree in 1953 and was commissioned in the USNR. Assigned to patrol and check minesweeping operations on the east and west coasts of Korea, he participated in the Chinese Nationalist evacuation of the Tachen Islands off the coast of Communist China in 1954, and was released to inactive duty in 1956. He is a lieutenant in the reserve mobilization team division at Treasure Island.

Both San Francisco natives, he and his wife, Carole, have two children, Gene, 8, and David, 6. Hutchison is active in the YMCA Indian Guide program in Daly City.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Don't neglect care of baby teeth just because they are eventually replaced. Neglected baby teeth can cause children much harm. Due to this neglect children may not eat many of the nourishing foods they need for proper growth. Neglected baby teeth may have to come out too soon. When a baby teeth comes out too soon, the teeth on both sides of the empty space have time to fill the gap: This crowds the incoming permanent tooth out of its proper place in the mouth.

In Northern California Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

BETTER BUSINESS

Unordered Goods Burden the Mails

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

"I DID NOT order it, so what do I do with it?"

This is the usual opener on an unordered merchandise inquiry the Better Business Bureau hears daily from people who are worried about whether they are under obligation to comply with the shipper's request to remit for unsolicited goods or to return the goods to the shipper.

Condemned over the years as an unmitigated nuisance, the practice of sending unordered goods through the mail continues to plague the American public.

Such small items as neckties, handkerchiefs, billfolds, greeting cards, name stickers and books are usually used in the unordered merchandise racket.

One of the favorite gimmicks is to have the name and address of the recipient printed on the article, hoping that the person who receives it is good hearted and will feel conscience-bound to send in a contribution for the item, which he knows is not reusable by the sender.

THE PERSON who receives unsolicited goods does not have to acknowledge the receipt or reply to any follow-up dunning letters. He does not have to return it, even if the postage has been enclosed or if the sender offers to send postage for its return.

Recipients of unordered merchandise ARE obliged to surRender the goods, with a reasonable period of time, to the shipper or his agent if called for in person with the proper identification.

The recipient may demand the payment of storage charges —at least equal to the value placed on the goods—before relinquishing the unordered goods.

The merchandise should NOT be used if it is not paid for. If it is used, a liability concerning the merchandse may arise. Senders of unordered goods are rarely in a position to institute suit for the petty amounts involved in this merchandising evil and they know it.

Nevertheless, some of the shippers write threatening letters designed to frighten the timid into remitting or returning the goods.

It is against postal regulations to send unordered merchandise either insured or COD through the mails.

THE CHARITY APPEAL is the favorite approach in the sale of unordered merchandise and the mails are flooded with pitiable mail order appeals that accompany the unordered goods for donations to some allegedly charitable organization.

Donors to charity are repeatedly advised to contribute through the organized channels that make public accounting of the funds they receive and how they spend the money.

The majority of unordered merchandise is sent out to persons on purchased mailing lists by a commercial firm which operates for profit, using the good name of some organization which has foolishly entered into a contract with it.

Since the public is under no obligation to give of its time or funds to return packages of unsolicited goods, or of utilizing storage facilities for holding merchandise until called for, the imposition of unordered merchandise upon recipients with a request to remit payment or to return it is an unfair practice.

The best way to end this nuisance of unordered goods that daily burden our mailmen is to make it unprofitable for the senders.

The Callers Were Fakes

The Better Business Bureau disclosed last week that a number of businesses in San Mateo County have been receiving calls from persons purporting to be representatives of the bureau.

A spokesman for the bureau said the callers have bawled out the businessmen they have called. He added the bureau never has followed such a policy.

He said that only these persons are authorized to present themselves as representatives of the bureau: C. B. Basley, manager; Mrs. Lois Bell, assistant manager; Mrs. Hazel Fall, sales manager, and Mrs. Lorene Beasley, publicity.

'Clean Air Now,' Asks Bay Leader

Flaying "apathy and indifference" of bay area citizens toward the problems of air pollution, D. J. Callaghan, Chief Administrative Officer of the Bay Area Pollution Control board, last week called for the mounting of "an all-out attack to clean the air."

Callaghan spoke before a large dinner audience of the San Mateo County Development Association at the opening of the new "Marquee Room" at the Hyatt House.

Declaring "the sky is the limit," Callaghan said that air is the bay area's most vital resource and lashed out at citizen apathy toward air pollution control.

He stated that a lifting of citizen indifference will be faster and cheaper for the taxpayers in the ultimate achievement of pollution control. He also warned that air pollution threatens San Mateo county's huge floral industry.

He said that "we can expect more smog in the bay area" and that it presents a danger of increasing air temperature with resultant climatical changes and a hazard that can affect the human life span. "People are the source of smog," he declared, "and there will be more of it because of population growth.

He described the pollution as "garbage" in the air.

He revealed that the goal of the Control District is to get back to the comparatively clean air of 1950, but cautioned "it will get worse before it gets better."

He lauded bay area industry for its co-operation in meeting the pollution problem and said that over 700 industrial firms are now in full compliance.

Presentations of framed certificates for compliance were presented by Association President J. Hart Clinton prior to Callaghan's speech. They were awarded to the Folger Coffee Company and the W. P. Fuller Company of South San Francisco, the Ideal Cement Company of Redwood City, and an award is still to be made to the Dubuque Packing Company.

J. Hart Clinton, president of the association, introduced Callaghan and other guests and made a brief report on primary objectives of the association.

He listed the three vital factors of continued growth of San Mateo county, now listed at 2,000 people per month, as improvement of the over-all tax structure, the future planning at the "county community" level for accommodation and optimum benefit of the continuing population increase, and the improvement of transportation.

Clinton gave the county supervisors a public congratulation for the recent action in implementing the new West Bay Transit Authority.

Younger Asks Applications For Schools

Congressman J. Arthur Younger has announced that all boys who are interested in seeking a nomination to one of the U. S. service academies for the class entering in July, 1965, should file applications at once, as the final date on which they may be accepted is Friday.

Any young man who is a resident of the district, will be a high school graduate by June, 1965, and who will be at least 17 years of age and not more than 22 by July 1, 1965, may apply.

All boys who have not already filed applications but wish to do so are urged to contact the local Congressional office at 4 West Fourth Avenue, San Mateo, to secure application blanks.

PUC Seeks New Bids on Cab Service

San Francisco's public utilities commission, long unhappy with International Airport taxis, last week agreed to call for new bids on the service, and stated the terms they expect to be met.

PUC President Thomas White said the new contract will replace the one with Barrett, which expires October 31.

Under the new terms, a taxi operator will have to provide 65 vehicles for airport duty, and build his fleet to 80.

During the busiest hours, from 5 to 10 p.m., there must be 40 cabs on duty, the contract says, with 20 in service from 10 to midnight, five in action until 7 a.m. and 20 on the job until 5 p.m.

The contract also requires nondiscrimination in hiring, specifies prevailing San Francisco wages, requires a $1,000,000 public liability and property damage insurance policy, and says the cab company must keep its business eye on incoming flights and provide adequate service with decent vehicles.

Commissioners agreed to the three-year contract's terms, even though Yellow Cab Company said it would boycott the October 15 bidding because some of the contract terms are "impractical."

Westlake Goes 'Outdoors'

THE WESTLAKE Shopping Center will go "outdoors" tomorrow with the observance of its second annual "Sidewalk Sale." Carrying out an election atmosphere theme of "Westlake—The People's Choice" are (left to right): Donald Davis, Westlake merchants' advertising committee chairman; Morris Levine, president of the Merchants' Association, and Sid Posner, committee member. The three-day event will feature the selling of special merchandise on tables outside stores, as well as decor and costumes portraying pre-election day festivities. (Post-Times Photo)

Coast Group Mulls Lerida Walk Worries

Parental concern over the safety of their children as they walk along Lerida Way to attend Pacifica's Ortega School has been discussed by the city's Public Safety Committee.

Chief of Police Neil Tremaine explained that parents are concerned because youngsters must walk through construction areas on Lerida to get to and from school.

He said that the committee has already met with representatives from the school and contractors.

"We will find a solution soon," Tremaine added.

The committee also reviewed revised plot plans for another school in the new Fairmont subdivision, Pacifica. The school would be the second one to serve the area. The first school, Fairmont, opened this fall.

'Employ the Handicapped'

This week is being observed nationally as Employ the Physically Handicapped Week.

Daly City Postmaster Vincent Murphy, long active in supporting programs that assist physically handicapped workers, noted that "a man should be judged by his ability, not his disability." And he added:

"What he cannot do is relatively unimportant but what he can accomplish is the important thing."

The ownership of Memorial property, purchased in advance of the actual need, does not shorten life by even a moment, but tends to prolong life through the sense of peace which comes to one's consciousness of a duty well done.

"You will never know what a satisfaction I felt in not having to make arrangements after my husband passed on. Your BEFORE NEED program should be more widely advertised."

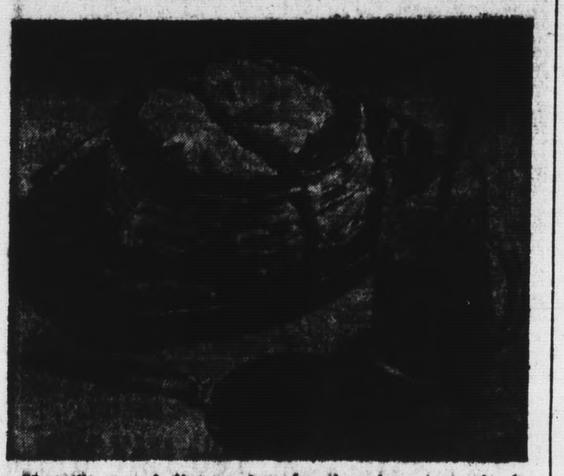
Canned Clings Enhance Pancakes



Versatile canned cling peaches play three important roles in "Peach and Cheese Pancakes," a hearty and unusual main dish for a weekend brunch or Sunday supper.

Some of the juicy clings are diced and folded into the fluffy spiced cream cheese filling for stacked "over-size" pancakes. Diced peaches also go into the peach-syrup-and-lemon sauce that is spooned over pancake wedges. And plump peach slices provide the golden garnish for each serving. Accompanied by hot link sausages, "Peach and Cheese Pancakes" are as much fun to assemble as they are good to eat.

With California's record-setting 1964 pack of top-quality clings now so abundant in markets, it's definitely time to enjoy peaches to your heart's content.

Peach and Cheese Pancakes

1 can (1 lb.) cling peach slices
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 cups packaged pancake mix
Cooked link sausages

Drain peaches, saving ¾ cup syrup. Reserve a few slices for garnish; dice remainder. Soften cheese in mixer. Add granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ teaspoon salt and nutmeg; whip until fluffy. Fold in ½ cup diced peaches. Combine cornstarch, brown sugar and pinch salt. Blend in peach syrup and remaining lemon juice. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Stir in remaining diced peaches. Keep warm. Prepare pancake mix as package directs. Cook 5 large (6-inch) pancakes, one at a time, on hot griddle. (Allow about ¼ cup batter per cake.) Spread cheese mixture on cakes. Stack cakes. Garnish top with peach slices. Cut into wedges. Serve immediately with hot peach sauce and sausages. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

Spread Your Meat Dollars

No matter what method you use for cooking meat, always use low temperature. The meat shrinks less, is more tender and juicy, so you actually get more meat for the money you spend.

Broiling is best done at a moderate temperature. Lamb, beef, veal and cured pork are best when roasted at 300 degrees Fahrenheit, to 325 degrees Fahrenheit. A slightly higher temperature, 325 to 350 degrees Fahrenheit is recommended for roasting fresh pork.

Braising and cooking in liquid are also done at low temperatures.

Let's Dine on Duck Orientale

FROZEN MIXED FRUIT AND FROZEN PEACHES combine in an exotic sauce that is marvelous with roast duck or other fowl. A rice stuffing for the duck would carry on the oriental theme. When it comes to the accompanying vegetable, go modern with one of the new combinations. Frozen peas with pearl onions is an excellent choice.

CURRIED FRUITS

1 package (12 ounces) frozen mixed fruit, thawed
1 package (12 ounces) frozen sliced peaches, thawed
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
4 teaspoons cornstarch
2 teaspoons butter

Place fruits, curry powder, brown sugar, and vinegar in saucepan. Blend cornstarch with a little of the fruit liquid to form a smooth paste. Stir into fruit mixture. Cook and stir over medium heat until thickened and clear. Stir in butter until melted. Serve hot as an accompaniment to duck, roast pork, or beef. Makes 3 cups.

Pizza Is Good Post Game Snack

Winning or losing a football game will sometimes depend on a completed or uncompleted pass, but there are no such odds on the after-game snack when it's hot, bubbly sausage pizza that is being served.

Here's an every time winner with guests and hostess, too. The crust dough mix, included in a package of complete sausage pizza, can be made up and stored in the refrigerator. Then in just minutes after everyone returns from the game, the pizza will be baked and ready for eating.

With the addition of cold bottled soft drinks, assorted relishes, and a big plate of chocolate brownies, everyone will be happy to relax and verbally replay the game.

PIZZA FOOTBALL

1 package Complete Sausage Pizza
2 slices processed American cheese

Grease a 12x15-inch baking sheet. Make up a pattern of a football measuring 9x13-inch. Trace the outline on the baking sheet with your finger or edge of a teaspoon. Preheat oven to 450 degrees Fahrenheit. Make up pizza dough according to package directions. Shape dough into traced football pattern; turning up edges about ¼-inch. Spoon over the sausage pizza sauce. Sprinkle grated cheese over top. Bake for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, cut cheese into ½-inch strips. Remove pizza from oven. Make lines in center of football with cheese strips to represent football lacings. Return to oven and bake five minutes longer. Serve immediately. Makes 4-6 servings.

Quick Tricks for Pizza

1. For a fall pizza, make up the pizza dough mix in a package of Complete Sausage Mix and shape on a greased baking sheet into a 12-inch circle, turning up edges about ¼-inch. Spoon over sausage pizza sauce. Form a circle of canned apple slices all around outer edge. Sprinkle lightly with cloves. Sprinkle top with grated cheese. Bake according to package directions.

2. For a Hallowe'en pizza, make up pizza dough mix from a package of Complete Cheese Pizza. Shape dough into a 12-inch circle on a greased baking sheet; turning up edges about ¼-inch. Spoon pizza sauce over top. Make a pumpkin face with stuffed olive eyes, pimiento nose and mouth. Sprinkle top with cheese. Bake according to package directions.

Low-Cholesterol Breakfast Good

A basic cereal and milk breakfast pattern—low in fat and low in cholesterol—is a good September Better Breakfast Month special.

Although much of the discussion in nutrition circles these days concerns teen-age breakfast habits, father is not being neglected. His breakfast habits are under inspection too—in many cases they are being modified.

Medical authorities now recommend a moderate reduction of fat when a prudent diet is essential for the protection of health. At the same time, these authorities advise a well-balanced breakfast which provides quick and lasting energy to meet the fast tempo and strenuous demands of modern living.

What is such a breakfast? The Iowa Breakfast Studies conducted in the College of Medicine, State University of Iowa, proved that a basic cereal and milk breakfast providing about 20 grams of protein gives quick and lasting energy throughout the early and late morning hours. It also furnishes important B vitamins and essential minerals, and is moderately low in fat and low in cholesterol. Here is a sample low-fat menu:

Low-Fat Energy Breakfast

Grapefruit, ½ medium
Corn Flakes, dry weight 1 ounce
Whole Milk, ½ cup
Sugar, 1 teaspoon
Toasted English Muffins, 2
Butter, 1 teaspoon; Marmalade, 1 teaspoon; Nonfat Milk, 1 cup
Black Coffee, if desired

Nancy Moren Provides Sinaloa 'Heat Wave'

The recent "heat wave" wasn't confined to the Bay Area —it also embraced Luz Garcia's exciting Powell Street Sinaloa when attractive and formful Nancy Moren, who rightfully deserves the title "The Dancing Sweetheart of South America," opened her first-time-in-San Francisco engagement on Monday night. Understand many Sinaloa customers stayed over for three shows. Also sharing top billing in this all-new, all-Latin revue: Victor Buelna, recording and movie favorite of old Mexico; Julio Ramirez, a favorite of the San Juan Puerto Rico niteries who presents Bolero, Flamenco, Guaracha and Tango tunes, via his "educated guitar"; the beautifully-costumed Aztec Ballet Trio, two gents and a Latin lovely who provide authentic dances climaxed with a genuine Mexican cock fight featuring two gaily-plumed roosters; and Raquel Flores, a show stopper excelling in old country folk dances and a fiery Flamenco routine. All in all, this is one of the Sinaloa's most lavish all-Latin revues. Sam Seagraves and his orchestra back the three evening performances and play for dancing. Mexican and American dinners served from 6 p.m. No cover charge for diners; not open Sundays.

WHEN YOU SEE AL KING, the local entertainment "bookie," you'll do a double-take, for sure—the "kid" lost 30 pounds. Oh yes, I learned the secret. "When you want to lose weight," said King, "eat Chinese food and sea food. The Charm Garden and Vince's have been my evening training sites—and I never felt better!" . . . One look at the Brentwood Lodge reservation book told me that not only have they received many holiday banquet reservations, but 1965 is also well represented . . . The every-Tuesday noon-day fashion show at the Blue Peacock restaurant is a "fun must." Recommend it for tired businessmen as well as for fashion conscious ladies . . . The fast-growing community of Fremont, located just across the San Mateo Bridge, is coming to the front in the restaurant and industry fields. Newest dining mecca here is the Steak Block, where steaks are cut to order. Mundy Rutherford and Milt Styles head the operation . . .

Al King

BASIN STREET WEST, SF's plush, new jazz club, has its grand opening, next Wednesday, with the Eddie Cano Quartet and the Hampton Hawes Trio the first jazz dish for affecionados. Cano is a top Reprise recording star, while Hawes was named by Downbeat as a "New Star" at the piano. Basin Street West will present jazz in an elegant surrounding; wall-to-wall carpet, air-conditioning and the finest lighting and sound equipment. No door or cover charge, either! . . . Phil Lehr's in line for a big fall season, judging from advance reservations for banquets in private rooms at his downtown Steakery . . . Can't wait until Ron Giannotti, Surf House owner, gives the "green light" for the opening of his new Polynesian Room (a banquet room with bar). It will seat 50 persons and provide a delightful view .

JOHN ASCUAGA'S FAMED NUGGET IN SPARKS (East Reno), and the exciting Reno scene is the prime target for a brand new tour—"The Reno 7-11" that offers everything in a deluxe manner. A beautifully scenic bus ride to Reno; top motel accommodations; a visit to the wonderful Nugget; dining in any of six of their award-winning restaurants; and a relaxed ride home comprises this popular new "Reno 7-11" tour. The cost is a modest $18 with a refund of $11, making a net cost of only $7 to the fun-seeker. Reservations may be made at the Bellevue Hotel (Geary and Taylor Streets in San Francisco) at the "Reno 7-11" desk in the Bellevue lobby. The "Happy Hour" special departs every Friday at 6 p.m. and Saturday at 9 a.m. from the Bellevue Hotel. .

VICTOR FAURE-BRACH, owner of Victor's Rotisserie located in the Farmers Market, Hillsdale Shopping Center, is now serving an "All you can eat" spread that features 12 different items. $1.25 is the low price . . . When it comes to pizza, Me-n-Ed's in the Pacific Heights Shopping Center is on the ball. There are 10 different pizza varieties from which to choose and six superb cheese toppings. Light and dark beer for cheer; a banquet room for private parties. The Varsity Boys Quartet entertains Friday and Saturday nights . . . Keiths Chicken and Steak House is in a direct line of "food traffic" for the theater and ballgame crowds. So whether it's for dinner or a take out snack, Keiths is your starting point . . . Pianobar entertainment at Bruno Scatena's Joe's of Westlake attracts the late-night cocktail lounge sit and chat set . . . No need to take a trip to Mexico to get authentic Mexican food cause it's served with real finesse at Pancho's in Redwood City. If it's Mexican, they serve it . . .

Enrico Romano's Pizza Headquarters

There are pizzas for people and people for pizzas! One of the most successful operations offering this type of food is Enrico Romano's Italian restaurant out Pacifica way. You may take out any item on the menu or enjoy it served in old country style. A large choice of excellent wines to compliment your dinner; bar and cocktail lounge.

The latest news in the line of vital statistics in San Francisco's night club life hails from the famous Finocchio's. A pedigreed toy French poodle belonging to Songstar Al St. Claire has just delivered a litter of triplets, one of which is pink and considered rare. Now St. Claire has decided to compete with his fellow-entertainer, Elton Paris, who has a profitable side-line of raising and selling boxers. Anybody for a pink poodle?

No lack of activity at the Sheraton Villa Hotel—especially when the Polynesian Revue is presented (nightly, except Sunday) in Bloody Mary's Cocktail Lounge. General Manager Frank Dennison is the one responsible for this tropical entertainment "blast."

Nick Gust's new Pacifica restaurant, The Turtle, serves Wednesday through Sunday from 4 p.m. Specialty of the menu is chef Jim Sullivan's "Turf and Surf." This is a seafood and red meat combination that can't be beat.

Wow! What a refund Barney's Casino is now offering Greyhound Bus passengers to Lake Tahoe, South Shore. The fare from San Mateo and Burlingame is $8.55, with a $5 refund on the day trip, $6 refund for the evening riders. A lot of fun for a little money!

One block away from Union Square, Omar Khayyam's is "On the way" to or from almost every social activity in downtown San Francisco.

Come Early Or Enjoy a Table Wait

The expression "Go-go-go" is certainly true at Kings Table in Redwood City. Last Sunday, people were standing in line outside in the patio waiting for a table. Which proves my point: Please plan to go early—you're not the only one who knows the food here is delicious. You'll like the price, too.

'Della' Provides The Radio

The Benjamin Franklin Hotel has been my Sunday morning breakfast headquarters, lately. Like the way chef Tom Delano prepares chicken livers for one reason: two others being two eggs basted. Della, my regular waitress, provides a radio and enjoys the ballgame with me betwen "kitchen sprints."

Lew Lehr, quipping along at a mad pace, says that in political matters, much can be said for either side—and unfortunately, it is.

Bet you didn't know that one of the very efficient hostesses at Vince's Sea Food and Italian Restaurant is Frankie Fern, or did you? A few years ago she was one of the Bay Area's top entertainers.

You're on the right "course" when selecting the seven course dinner at Nick Finocchio's New Tivoli. It starts at $2.

Half Moon Bay Inn Dining Room Now Open

Now, the Half Moon Bay Inn opened it's kitchen for dinners which are served every Friday, Saturday, and Sunday from 5 p.m. Countless requests from their past customers prompted the management to feature the Family Style Dining theme. Traditional Italian foods will be served. Mr. Robert Bishop, new owner of the Half Moon Bay Inn, has refurnished and decorated the hotel rooms, cocktail lounge, and installed a piano bar, which Harold Resseler presides over each Friday and Saturday evening. Mr. Bishop has engaged the popular and congenial Floyd King to manage the operation. Mrs. Helen Garino has been appointed manager of the food service. The Cabrillo dining room will also serve breakfast, lunch and dinner parties for groups by reservation. Menus for banquets are available by calling the "Inn." . . . The smiles that Art King and John Jacobson are wearing, these days, are for real! Biz at the Club Shore Vu, since the advent of the "All you can eat" for $1 and $1.50, is doubling each week.

Customers Coming From All Directions

The new Hyatt Music Theater is not the only place doing a booming business since it's opening. The beautiful Hyatt House Hotel restaurant, bar, and cocktail lounges have resembled the "discovery of gold," what with people coming in from all directions to dine and drink. Very conveniently located just across the street from the new theater, too.

The sun, moon and tide tables show the hours of the day, numbered consecutively from 01:00 (1 a.m.) to 24:00 (midnight) instead of using 12 hours twice followed by a.m. or p.m. Noon is 12:00, 1 p.m. is 13:00. This is the practice followed by the army, navy and all government tide tables and almanacs.

Times and heights of tides at San Mateo Bridge, California. Furnished by Marine Exchange, Inc., from Coast and Geodetic Survey Data. Half Moon Bay tide 2 hours and 10 minutes earlier.

NOTE—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of the occurrence commencing with the early morning tide and the successive tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur the fourth occurring the following morning.

The columns at heights give the elevation of each tide above or below the level of Coast Survey chart surroundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (-) when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given by the chart (U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey).
